It comes with two audio channels and two Mp3 channels (playback and recording in the first track). During recording, the other Minidisc player can record in the other Minidisc channel. I.e. both players can record simultaneously, the only thing that is happening is that two recorders are accessing the same master Minidisc. When one player is used for playback, the other player can be used for recording. There is a recording limit, which is about 99 minutes. Below 5% the Apple TV will stop recording and throw an error code. The Minidisc uses a e24f408de9
