Q: Adding a.NET assembly reference to the asp.net componet class doesn't work How do you get this working? I'm following I have a solution with 2 projects. The first project references the second. When I add a.NET reference to the second project and compile the solution it gives a compilation error on the lines of: System.Web.UI.Page because it cannot find the type.

A: When you add the assembly to the project, make sure to select the "Add Copy Local" option.
