I need to override a method in the backend of the WCF Service that I am using, specifically I need to override the GetById( int id) method that returns an array of type UserObject. I need to edit the return type of this method from UserObject[] to Profile[] so that the data is returned as a Profile. I have tried to do this by creating a new class that inherits from the UserObject class and changes the return type, but I keep getting a message from Visual Studio that says: The type UserObject does not have a default constructor I had a feeling that this would be the case, but I tried creating a new UserObject class with the default constructor and the same problem persisted. public class UserProfile : UserObject { public UserProfile() : base() { } } I'm not sure why this isn't working. Can anyone help? A: Given that the class you want to modify is the one returned by your WCF service, you should be able to use a WCF Duplex Channel to create a client that uses your WCF service with this modified Client. See this page for more details. Q: How do I query the following in Cypress.io? The following is a sample from a Nodejs Express API project. Cypress.io says it works with Cypress.io, I'm very new to Cypress so please be gentle. I want to query the recived data. I've put the proxy code in the following way. const express = require('express'); const cookieParser = require('cookie-parser'); const cors = require
