It's for a simple Windows Form in C#. The idea is to have an installer package which will copy the app to a folder, but the source folder is different on a build server. I am thinking that if I can get the build server to invoke the task just once, it's a good start. My test MSBuild file looks like: AssemblyInfo.cs Company.txt AssemblyInfo.cs Copyright.txt My questions are: Is my reasoning sound? If so, do I need to have an _AssemblyAttributes attribute as well? What's the best way to invoke the task in a build server? Obviously it doesn't know where the app is, so the simplest
