Buckle up kids and get ready for a fantastic, funny and touching game. You are Fat Baby, a pink baby boomer who, after a bottle of wine at a retirement home, passes out and finds himself in a fantasy world. Together with the other elderly characters in this fantasy land, Fat Baby sets out to fulfill their dreams and wishes. Funny scenarios, amazing animations and outstanding cartoon style await you in the game Fat Baby. Play as Fat Baby and make this epic journey! Embark on this super fun, super funny adventure with your best friends! The game is singleplayer so it is just for you. Collect the pieces of the instruments and solve the puzzles to unlock the levels. Your mission is to find the means to return home in the best possible way! The game consists of the following : 13 different levels (all of them are different from each other), 50 unique puzzles in each, two different areas. The most outrageous and vicious flop in a long time, has the potential to be a real threat to the lives of thousands of women because it has so successfully moved mainstream media into the realm of promoting a dubious medical model for the treatment of emotional trauma. Australian news director of the ABC, Gaven Morris was forced to issue a full-scale, on-air apology for the gang rape he got subjected to by an MHP candidate on the grounds of an alleged temporary insanity brought about by a trauma she suffered in the womb. So you may be thinking, that this is just one of many isolated incidents. Well, you would be wrong. I have been able to find more than one incident of a similar nature in the UK. One of the most telling was when former TV chef, Victor Graham, found himself in a situation where he was forced to have a needle inserted into his penis, ostensibly for the purpose of checking his prostate. However the male organ is not only for the checking of a man's prostate, it has a function far more basic and fundamental to its role in life than that. It is the purpose of the male organ to enter the vagina of a woman during sexual intercourse and deposit a tiny drop of spermic ooze, or spermatizatio. And while some may argue that ejaculate is not required to perpetuate the race, others would argue that it is. The human race cannot survive without propagating itself. If the spermatizatio is not well delivered, there is less chance that

Do you want to survive in a post-apocalyptic world? Than this is the game for you! 'R.U.S.E. - Apocalypse Project' is an RPG survival shooter, available on the Windows, Mac and Linux platforms. An open world, treacherous, radioactive and hostile environment. Armed with nothing but a knife and a pistol you're going to have to fight for your life! The artificial intelligence (AI) of the game is highly diversified and intelligent, and players will have to feel as one with the characters, and how to treat them to best survive! Players will have to adapt to new situations and find new ways to solve problems and survive in this post apocalyptic world. Every day will bring new challenges and players will have to work hard to stay alive. The game has two different factions (human and mutants). Each faction has its own distinctive weapons and uses different tactics for survival. When it comes to the mutants it's no different. They try to survive using their own unique tactics and weapons. Mutual fighting is the order of the day! Fighting against mutants is the main thing. They have their own set of tools, weapons and objectives. The environment is also hostile. Natural disasters, anomalies, electrical blackouts, radioactivity and post apocalyptic conditions are all hazards that come with this adrenaline filled game. Plus, as the game begins, a pandemic starts and that infects each character in the game. The characters become mutated, both physically and mentally. The pandemic is also responsible for the mutation of the environment and the game becomes a true survival adventure. We are sure that it will appeal to RPG survival fans! Get your adrenaline and begin the journey now! Help: In the game you have to find survivors and help them. There is always someone to help you! Surviving in the game is not a easy task. You need to be well prepared and have enough supplies. By day you will be unable to move at all, as the world is filled with radiation and will not have power source. In this environment you don't have a choice. You can't just wander around as there are always cars that guard, people who are hostile or the anomaly that will create a shockwave, so all you can do is run away or avoid being in their line of sight. What's inside: The main focus of the game is survival. You have to survive as well as
