Wagner Macallum Wagner Macallum (born 12 July 1984) is a Namibian-born New Zealand footballer who plays for Waitakere City Football Club in the New Zealand Football Championship. Macallum has represented New Zealand at the Under 21 level and represented his country at the 2006 Oceanian Games and 2010 Asian Games.

Career Born in Windhoek, Namibia, Macallum moved to New Zealand in 2002 and began playing for a number of semi-professional clubs. Macallum made his professional debut for Auckland City F.C. on 30 August 2005 in a 2-2 draw at the Harbour Centre Stadium against Waitakere City. On 6 October 2009, Macallum signed a two-year contract to play for Central United. International Macallum made his debut for the Namibia national football team against Egypt on 16 June 2006, in a 2-0 loss for the 2006 African Cup of Nations qualifying campaign. Macallum went on to score Namibia's second goal in the match. Macallum made his first appearance for the Namibia team at the 2006 Oceanian Games where he started on the left side of midfield. Macallum played a pivotal role in the match, as Namibia won 2-1 over Solomon Islands in extra time, eventually taking home the gold medal. In 2010 Macallum was called into the squad for the 2010 Asian Games. He played in the final against South Korea, taking an injury time penalty in the penalty shoot-out. However

Oik Memory: Endgame PC/Windows

Developed by Nima Fakhrara and originally published by Nima Games in 1998, Black Friday is a Half-Life inspired first-person shooter set in Iran in 1979. The player takes on the role of a pro-government paramilitary volunteer during the Iranian Revolution, which means he is on the wrong side of the conflict. In order to complete his mission, the player must survive many waves of attacking terrorists and rebel forces led by the main antagonist, General Mahvash. Black Friday has been re-released several times after its original publication, the latest of which being Black Friday 2011. This edition includes new levels, three new weapons, improved graphics, high-quality voice acting, and more. Originally released for PC, Black Friday: Revenge (an update of Black Friday 2011) for Windows and Mac was released in 2012. About Nima Fakhrara: Nima Fakhrara is an Iranian musician born in Tehran, Iran. He began playing keyboard and guitar at a young age, and his passion for music later led him to continue studying all aspects of the composition, recording, and production of music. He currently works as a sound designer, composer, producer, and keyboardist for video games, music videos, and radio shows. What's new in Oik Memory: Endgame:

(additional BR Class 419 units only) The Steam Workshop will allow you to directly download the add-on from the main Steam page (either by right-clicking the "Add-ons" in your library, or from the Steam -> Add-ons tab). You must own FS SteamWorld Dig to play FS SteamWorld Dig and FS SteamWorld Heist. You own SteamWorld Dig? Great! Check out the Steam Workshop page, and let us know what you think! The add-on allows you to control the additional BR Class 419 units in both games. The rules are the same as those for the standard BEMU controls, and the same interface will be available. For FS SteamWorld Dig, the added BR Class 419 is automatically saved in the local save-game file (once you've introduced that class into your Dig.ini). Your Dig character will be able to use the BR Class 419s as it would the other BEMUs, once you exit and re-enter SteamWorld and if you haven't trained any other BEMU and have saved your Dig.ini file from before you added the BR class 419. For other trainers, it will function as any BEMU - if you already got it into your Dig.ini and don't want it, you can remove it from there. For FS SteamWorld Heist, if you already got the BR Class 419, the game will find it during the course of the game and save it in your local save-game file and you will not be able to overwrite it. It will function the same as any other BEMU, and will still be in your save-game file. Why do you need the BR Class 419's Dive Tackle and hovering abilities? Well the actual BR Class 419 is a steam locomotive, so it can't really be boarded when the line is getting underconstruction. So the makers of SteamWorld Dig designed a BEMU that looks a lot like the BR Class 419 (for a BEMU deck) and can be launched from the locomotive with the same force as the actual BR Class 419 locomotive. If you launch a BR Class 419 with the two buttons, it will make the appropriate impact, though it no longer impacts instead and always makes the same impact. If you the lower part of the face, where the buttons are located, makes the impact, it will keep the same momentum, however the steam impact will not be the same.
