Artist in Ren'Py. This is my first attempt and I just got the program at the start of the year so I'm pretty new to this. The Artist works fine because I've made a test scene and I got to watch a video and find out how it all works. However, building sprites never works. It seems to generate the sprite at the end of the first cycle and leave it there. It's all the same sprite throughout a cycle. I have no idea why this is happening. Also, I can't seem to get the "make sprite anim" and "make mov" functions to work, they don't do anything when I press 'Enter'. It just keeps looping the first picture of the animation (from none). EDIT: I think I solved the first issue, the direction for the animation and the speed and start frames are in the right order but at the moment the coordinates are in a totally different order. That's why the sprites move in the wrong direction during each animation cycle. Last edited by Nick on Wed Oct 19, 2015 12:15 pm; edited 1 time in total (Reason for editing : Added issue to start and end frames) - The spriting function didn't work at all- I sort of solved this, by getting the animations back to their original state.- I have TFT Artist, tried making a sprite again, it's still all the same sprite- I don't get the "Mov" button to work, either- Tried adjusting the move and endframes to be correct Yeah, actually, I'm meant to be animating something and it's proving to be a real pain because the get-move-move animation doesn't work (stayed dead at the second frame) and I have no idea what the last frame is (1 or 2) or what the last frame sprite is (it wasn't "none") I don't know what the first frame of the sprite is either...I had originally requested an array with frames 1,3,5,7,9,11, but I gave up on that idea, since I didn't find time-frames in this.I'm pretty sure I set it to right click. Does anyone know how to fix the'make mov' and'make sprite anim'
