Authors:Source Code PRO is an IDE for you to write, test and run your code snippets and create web applications in a single environment. It allows you to create snippets of code - Which you can execute in a ScriptRunner or you may create a sample web application, which you can extend later on. You are free to customize the functionality according to your need and turn it into a web application. You get free updates via the internet. Features: Storyboard feature allows you to organize your application's screens - (pop ups, forms, menus, etc.) With Storyboard you can have one storyboard for each screen (or a menu, a form) and add content like buttons and fields to your screens, group them and so on. A storyboard is like a visual representation of your application. You can modify it and reuse it for any screen or form you use in your app. You can create a screen according to each screen (form, popup) you use. Drag and drop any UI element to create a screen. From a screen, you can add any UI element, which are already defined and organized in some files, here you will create new UI elements, you can customize the properties of elements and use them in new screens. You can choose any GUI type you want (MySafari, Windows, Android, Mac, iPhone, iPad, etc.). All UI elements have properties that you can define and customize. For example, you can set the background color for a button, the font of the label, the text color and many other properties. All windows are independent from one another and you can have as many windows as you want. You can assign the name to each screen and save them in a file. With the possibility to create reusable screens, you can have a story
