1. Field of the Invention
The present invention relates to a fishing accessory, particularly, a foot puller for fishing.

2. Description of the Prior Art
In fishing, a net, hook, bait or the like may be used, and the conventional net or hook used in fishing is laid on a particular rod to pull the net or hook. The conventional fishing method is to hold the rod with one hand and pull the fishing gear with the other hand. But in using the conventional fishing gear, the fisherman must put his or her hand on the rod, which obstructs the fishing activities. Moreover, as the fisherman pulls the fishing gear with the hand, a strong pull is required, so that the fisherman's hand may be injured. It is, therefore, an object of the present invention to provide a foot puller for fishing, which can be conveniently used and will not hurt a fisherman's hand. The foot puller for fishing is provided with a bracket for receiving a rod, a casing with a latch pivotally mounted on the bracket, and a foot pivotally connected to the casing and having a clamp for clamping the fishing gear.
