WKZV is owned by Cumulus Media, and airs an adult contemporary radio format. Because the station is licensed for operation at 100 watts, it is required to reduce its power to 50 watts at night in order to protect the licensed station, WXPB, from potential co-channel interference. As a result, WKZV-FM is required to utilize an offset transmitter to produce a directional pattern. Because of these reasons, WKZV-FM serves only Peekskill, New York, from its tower located near Cherry Hill, New Jersey. As a result, WKZV-FM is a rather weak station in New York City, with many of the city's commercial radio stations carrying more coverage. History While it is believed that WKZV signed on as the first New York City station in the country to air an all-news radio format (on November 1, 1934), the station began broadcasting music in 1931 on 106.3 MHz under the call letters WKDF. In September 1945, WKDF was sold to the Long Island Broadcasting Corporation. In June 1946, WKDF changed its call letters to WYFV, and again to WYLF in June 1947; in 1948, the station changed its call letters to WKCS. On September 9, 1948, WKCS was bought by the New York Giants, who had been using WAAF (now WFAN) as a backup if the team's primary transmitter suffered an equipment failure. The football team took the station off the air at midnight, and did not return until a new transmitter was installed and WKCS's license restored.
