Why is it still trying to download when you have all of the cracked applications on your sdcard? Click to expand... Just sent it to my phone and it says "how to restore" and "i don't know" so i guess we will have to wait til i get a hold of the original. i thought i added these apps the other day but forgot i had to click on one of the apps to see the screen Click to expand... Also i put in some backups that will allow you to just download your stuff, but in a specific folder or box that will be on your phone.

Or just wait till i get the original. It will download everything and that'll be it, i already have the original tho so yea. is it normal for 2 apps to be downloading 3 files, but just not fully downloaded yet? I have access to my phone, but i don't have the original or the backups. I have an old lte phone i use for work and as soon as i get back home i will put a copy of the cracked apps and i will let the other guy have my backups I have access to my phone, but i don't have the original or the backups. I have an old lte phone i use for work and as soon as i get back home i will put a copy of the cracked apps and i will let the other guy have my backups Click to expand... how are you sending them to the phone Click to expand... They are on my PC so i just need to send the original to my phone then the ones that have the crackers addons will be there. @bobics not sure if this is in the new patches, but there are 3 game files that everyone sees, that when you select them they cancel each other. I am having the same problem with my phone, all of my applications are corrupted and I can't add them to my pc, so I have to do it the hard way and download them all. basically the problem is that the patches can't be done by just clicking on the icons as they take you to the page to download the patch. how are you sending them to the phone Click to expand... They are on my PC so i just need to send the original to my phone then the ones that have the crackers addons will be there. Click
