Rather than remaining based on the developer and requiring constant updates, a word list and string function library based keys can be used to generate a key for any game, and all the keys generated would be identical. Most of the keys made with such programs are meant for single player only. The best part is that it requires no third party software or internet connection. No additional software is required to use the keygen. All this can be done while you are offline. To install the game using a desktop or portable download manager, you will need to have an internet connection for the download to complete and the game to be activated.Q: How to get formatted string from Int (bytes32)? I am trying to get formatted string from raw bytes32 (in bytes) but it returns 0x0 without any quotes. I am trying to get the formatted string from the memory as it is (0x0) : pragma solidity ^0.4.18; contract c { uint bytes32; string memory formatted_string; function get_string() public view returns (string memory) { formatted_string = bytes32(0x0).toString("hex"); return formatted_string; } } A: A string in Solidity is just a sequence of bytes. You can convert between byte strings and hex strings in Solidity by calling toString() and then slicing it off the start. function get_string() public view returns (string memory) { formatted_string = bytes32(0x0).toString("hex").slice(2); return formatted_string; } John Hyrum Buttler John Hyrum Buttler (August 14, 1814 – February 18, 1884) was an American businessman and politician. Buttler was born in Alcona County, Michigan. He went to the Albion High School in Michigan and then went to the Detroit Collegiate Institute and State University (Michigan). He was a school teacher.
